23rd Annual Advanced Placement American History Conference

Your choice of one day during the week of

Monday, March 18 through Friday, March 22, 2013
9 a.m.–1:30 p.m.

World War II in American Culture, Society, and Politics

Courtesy www.history.army.mil

After more than 60 years, World War II still evokes images of "the greatest generation." One of the pivotal events of the 20th century, World War II had a profound effect on the nation's culture, government, and economy, as well as its citizens' social relations. The Strong's 23rd Annual Advanced Placement American History Conference explores the American home front during World War II and the legacy of the war in American life. Students will enjoy insightful seminars about social, cultural, and political changes during World War II led by local college and university professors. The conference will also include in-depth discussions that foster critical thinking skills.

Register today for a day of college-level presentations, a provocative panel discussion, and the opportunity to interact with seminar speakers, as well as peers from other local schools.

REGISTER TODAY! Call 585-263-2700.

$8 per person. Seating is limited.
Registration closes February 13, 2013.
Lunches may be pre-ordered when registering.

One Manhattan Square • Rochester, NY 14607 • 585-263-2700 • www.museumofplay.org

National Museum of PLAY® at The Strong

World War II in American Culture, Society, and Politics

Seminars

- Becoming Rosie the Riveter: Stability and Transformation of Women's Roles in World War II
  Timothy Kneeland, PhD, Nazareth College
  Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday
- Mr. Jones Comes Home: Veterans, Masculinity, and Postwar Readjustment
  Christina Jarvis, PhD, State University of New York at Fredonia
  Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday
- Playing to Win: Sports and the Second World War
  Wanda Wakefield, PhD, The College at Brockport, State University of New York
  Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday
- America's High Tech Arsenal of Democracy and Prosperity
  James Spiller, PhD, The College at Brockport, State University of New York
  Tuesday or Friday
- Joe Louis and Double Victory during World War II
  Theresa Runstedtler, PhD, State University of New York at Buffalo
  Monday or Wednesday
- Japanese-American Internment
  Tamar Carroll, PhD, Rochester Institute of Technology
  Monday or Friday
- Why We Fought
  Robert Westbrook, PhD, University of Rochester
  Tuesday or Thursday

Courtesy www.history.army.mil

Panel Symposium

Four speakers convene each day to present a summary of their ideas. Through facilitated discussion, students will engage in dialogue with the speakers and synthesize the different perspectives.

Schedule

Arrival & Registration	8:30–8:55 a.m.
Seminar I	9–10:15 a.m.
Seminar II	10:25–11:25 a.m.
Lunch	11:30 a.m.–12:25 p.m.
Panel Symposium	12:30–1:30 p.m.

One Manhattan Square • Rochester, NY 14607 • 585-263-2700 • www.museumofplay.org

National Museum of PLAY® at The Strong