The Strong Museum
Exhibits and Events Calendar
April through December 2014

Short-term Exhibit

Animation* (Extended through May 4, 2014)

Ready, set, draw! Explore the science behind the art of animation amid colorful, larger-than-life graphics of popular characters from Cartoon Network. Families and children will delight in bringing their own creations to life from concept to finished product—from storyboarding, character design, and drawing techniques, to movement, timing, filming, and sound selections. Guests can explore an array of animation tools and techniques, including cartoon drawing, visual effects, cel layering, computer animation, and stop-motion and time-lapse technology. The exhibit also presents the history of animation and features a screening room and a cartoon museum. Animation was designed and produced by the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry in conjunction with Cartoon Network.

Upcoming Exhibits

Boardwalk Arcade* (May 24–September 7, 2014)

Step right up. This summertime favorite exhibit is back and better than ever! Celebrate seaside amusements in all their beeping, blipping, and vibrant glory. Stroll through a scene that evokes the heyday of 19th- and early 20th-century resorts such as Coney Island and Atlantic City, where Americans flocked from around the country for good old summertime fun. Learn about the history of these popular amusements and their impact on American culture. Try your skill at arcade and redemption games, snap a photo with beach props and cut-outs, and much more. Historic ocean resort postcards and a small “beach” area complete the seaside experience. An original exhibit produced by The Strong’s International Center for the History of Electronic Games.

Pinball Playfields (May 24–September 7, 2014)

Play your way through more than 80 years of pinball history. The exhibit traces the evolution of the pinball playfield—the surface where the ball ricochets through a maze of lights and obstacles to rack up points—from countertop games of the 1930s to the sophisticated electronic versions that remain popular today. Be one of the few to wrap your arms around Hercules, the world’s largest commercial pinball machine, and test your skills on other playable pinball machines. View unique artifacts, including playfield prototypes, original sketches by pinball-machine designers, and bagatelle-style handheld pinball puzzles—games with a tilted surface used to guide a ball through a maze. An original exhibit produced by The Strong’s International Center for the History of Electronic Games.

LEGO® Castle Adventure (October 4, 2014–February 1, 2015)

Hear ye, hear ye! LEGO® Castle Adventure is back by popular demand! Be a knight, be a princess, or become a noble craftsman using one of the greatest building materials of all time—LEGO bricks!

Explore the majestic castle and sit upon the royal throne. Admire regal furnishings, including the family portrait and a decorative suit of armor—made entirely out of LEGO bricks. Take a tour of the king’s secret treasure room, dress in royal garb, build a LEGO brick topiary for the courtyard, and more. The exhibit was created by the Children’s Museum of Indianapolis in conjunction with LEGO Systems, Inc.

Play Pals (December 6, 2014–Permanent)

Explore the history of dolls, action figures, toy soldiers, plush animals, and other toys of the imagination. Role play in a life-size dollhouse, play a teddy bear operation game, go on adventures at the action figure play station, and tend to stuffed animals at the animal hospital. View unique artifacts from The Strong’s collections including an early G.I. Joe prototype, a 1930s velvet Mickey Mouse stuffed animal, and the German Bild Lilli doll—a doll that dramatically inspired the creation of Barbie. An original exhibit produced by The Strong. (Play Pals is phase three of a five-phase project to transform the museum’s second floor into America at Play, a highly interactive exhibit on the history of play in America.) This project is made possible by a grant from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services.

Permanent Exhibits

American Comic Book Heroes: The Battle of Good vs. Evil Meet Superman, Iron Man, Batman, and other comic book heroes in an exhibit that explores the history of superhero comic books in America. Climb up the side of a “building,” test your skills at Super Powers School, “fly” through the air like a superhero, and more. Kids will enjoy superhero dress up and role-play. Produced by The Strong.

The Berenstain Bears®: Down a Sunny Dirt Road An original exhibit straight from the pages of the beloved books. Step into the playful world of the Berenstain Bears including Main Street, Farmer Ben’s Farm, and Brother and Sister Bear’s Club Houses. Mama’s Quilt Shop, and Papa’s Workshop. Produced by The Strong in partnership with the Berenstain Family.

Can You Tell Me How to Get to Sesame Street? Step onto Sesame Street and go hands-on with activities you see on television. Enter Elmo’s crayon-colored television world, experience the famous brownstone facade of 123 Sesame Street, see yourself on television with the Muppets, “drive” around Sesame Street in a big yellow taxicab, sell movie tickets at the Circle in the Square Cinema ticket booth, and more. Produced by The Strong in collaboration with Sesame Workshop.

Dancing Wings Butterfly Garden® Enjoy tropical weather year-round when you visit this glass-enclosed butterfly garden filled with live foliage, a cascading waterfall, birds and other wildlife, and approximately 800 colorful North American and tropical butterflies. (Additional admission charge of $4 for the butterfly garden for nonmembers and $3 for members. Prices subject to change.)

eGameRevolution® Play your way through the history of video games from pioneer Ralph Baer's first Brown Box game to today's high-tech Xbox 360. Enter a recreated, old-fashioned video arcade featuring more than two dozen operating historic video games, or visit one of several emulator stations around the gallery and challenge yourself to more than 40 classic and contemporary PC and console games. You can also play Giant Tetris, Pac-Man Battle Royale, Boom Blox on Wii, and step lively on an LED Lightspace floor. Show off your pinball powers on classic machines such as TRON: Legacy and The Addams Family. Young children will especially enjoy creating artwork with oversized translucent pegs on a gigantic Lite Brite-like wall. Produced by The Strong's International Center for the History of Electronic Games.

Field of Play Discover the power of play in human learning and development at a multimedia theater presentation. Then unleash your playful side: walk through a giant kaleidoscope and create and view your own kaleidoscope patterns, use pulleys to power balls through a gigantic overhead ball machine, "drive" a drag racer, lose all perspective in the exaggerated perspective room, climb a rock wall, relax in the Jellyfish Jungle, and so much more. Produced by The Strong.

Game Time! Move like a piece on a giant game board through three centuries of American games, puzzles, and public amusements. On your way to the finish line, enjoy colorful displays of rare historic treasures from The Strong's unparalleled game and puzzle collections—many never available to the public before. Produced by The Strong.

Kid to Kid Let your imagination roam freely through the world of communication. Climb aboard a giant helicopter and pilot the controls; prepare, stamp, weigh, and sort mail in the Kid to Kid post office; board a whaling ship; and so much more. Produced by The Strong.

Monopoly: An American Icon Discover the surprising story of one of America's favorite games in this display of rare and historic versions of Monopoly never before gathered in one place. On view are significant landmark games including a 1913 John Heap Monopoly set, which was a key piece of evidence in a Monopoly copyright dispute, and two hand-made Monopoly sets by Charles Darrow (1933), who is credited with marketing and popularizing the game fans have come to know and love. Produced by The Strong.

National Toy Hall of Fame® Each November, the National Toy Hall of Fame at The Strong inducts toys that have achieved longevity and national significance in the world of play and imagination. The prestigious hall features historic examples of current toy inductees and play stations where you can race a Slinky, build with LEGO bricks, swivel a hula hoop, and play with blocks and puzzles. Entrance to the National Toy Hall of Fame is included with general museum admission fees. Produced by The Strong.

One History Place Amid original artifacts and reproductions, children explore mini-environments and get a taste of life as it was a century ago. Play dress up in the attic, plink piano keys in the parlor, "pump" water in the kitchen, and pretend to travel across the country at the train station. Produced by The Strong.

Rainbow Reef aquarium A 1,700-gallon coral reef tank displays a dazzling array of brilliantly colored fish, corals, anemones, shrimp, crabs, and other invertebrates. Come face-to-face with living creatures of the reef and observe their fascinating behaviors and marvelous survival adaptations. Additional aquarium tanks feature salt and fresh water fish environments.

Reading Adventureland Step into a life-sized pop-up book and follow the Yellow Brick Road into five literary landscapes from children’s books: Adventure Island (explore a pirate shipwreck, scale a cliff, and crawl through cave tunnels); Mystery Mansion (discover what lies behind the secret bookcase, decipher secret codes, and scour for clues like Nancy Drew or Encyclopedia Brown); Fairy Tale Forest (cross the Troll Bridge, step into Cinderella’s pumpkin coach, visit the Fairy Tale Cottage, climb a Beanstalk to the Giant’s Castle, and sit at King Arthur’s Round Table); the Upside-Down Nonsense House (a topsy-turvy house filled with ridiculous rhymes, silly food—green eggs and ham anyone?—tongue twisters, and mirror illusions); and the Wizard’s Workshop (mix up a magic potion and make a wand, wizard hat, or playful puppet). Produced by The Strong.

Wegmans Super Kids Market In this exhibit kids run the store. Cruise the aisles and fill your cart with a selection of colorful produce that looks so real, you can almost taste it. Check out the kid-sized Market Café—complete with organic foods, prepared foods, a coffee bar, and sushi bar. A special themed toddler area features a miniature organic farm; and deli, meat, seafood, and bakery departments are filled with highly interactive stations for dramatic role-playing. Make a “brick oven” pizza, run the bakery, scan bar-coded products at six working check-out counters, and much more! Kids produce their own commercials and cooking shows in the WKID-TV station. Produced by The Strong in collaboration with Wegmans Food Markets.

TimeLab Travel through time as you explore changing American trends in food, fashion, music, and more. This learning laboratory brims with playful objects from America’s past and present including sports gear, photographs, shoes, and clothing. Enter TimeLab on the only operating time-travel machine in North America. Visit DanceLab where you can cast shadow patterns as you dance to music through the decades. Produced by The Strong.

About The Strong

You are never too big for this much fun! Entertaining, exciting, unforgettable fun for the whole family. The Strong is a highly interactive, collections-based museum devoted to the history and exploration of play. Inside discover the National Toy Hall of Fame and world's largest collection of toys, dolls, games, and other items that celebrate play.

The museum takes play very seriously. Its philosophy—that play is essential to learning and human development—is reflected everywhere you look, beginning with its uniquely whimsical architecture (including a butterfly house built to look like the world's largest butterfly, an undulating two-story caterpillar-shaped atrium, and a structure resembling a pile of gigantic children's building blocks).

The Strong is known for:

- Engaging, hands-on exhibits, plus fascinating displays of artifacts of play
- The prestigious National Toy Hall of Fame®
- Fun-filled educational programs
- Quality guest services, museum shops, and a food court
- A working 1918 carousel and the Strong Express passenger train
- Upstate New York's only year-round, indoor butterfly garden

For more information about the museum, please visit museumofplay.org.
