

Visiting the Wegmans Super Kids Market Exhibit

I am going to visit Wegmans Super Kids Market at The Strong. The market looks a lot like a real Wegmans.

Things will be different from my last visit. This is to keep me and my adult healthy. Museum hosts will be wearing blue shirts and masks. The museum may smell different than I remember. I will smell the cleaning supplies that the workers are using to clean the museum. I might see workers cleaning while I am visiting the museum. I can help, too, by cleaning my hands and not touching my face.

Before I enter the market, a museum host will ask me if I have been in the market before. I will answer yes or no. The host will remind me that I am allowed to shop for five items.

I can get a cart or basket and begin shopping. When I have picked my five items, I can go through the check-out line at a cash register. There might be another child at the register pretending to be a cashier. I will wait my turn, or I can look for an open register to scan items by myself. After my food has all been scanned, I will put the food into a bin to be cleaned. If I do not want to collect food and go through the check-out lane, I can play in the Market Café. I can pretend to be a café worker and serve pretend food to other children. There is a pretend television station in the back of the market. I can ask my adult to take me there.

I will stay in Wegmans Super Kids Market with my adult until we are ready to leave together. The market is colorful and fun. I am going to have a great time!
