Historical Note

The Doll Collectors of America, Inc. is an organization established in Boston, Massachusetts in November 1935 with the purpose of promoting the study of dolls, sharing information about the origin and history of dolls, and encouraging the collection and preservation of dolls. Founding members included Amy Louise Wood, Gertrude R. Husk, Hattie Elliott Johnson, Eleanor Hudson, Grace F. Garland, Blanche E. Eaton, Mary Bradford Stevens, Jessie M. Ramsbottom, and Jennie L. Abbott. The first DCA exhibit was held at the Winchester Public Library in Winchester, Massachusetts in May 1938. Since its inception, membership to the DCA requires an application, sponsor letters, and keen interest in collecting, studying, and preserving antique dolls.

The DCA holds monthly executive board and general membership meetings, which are often supplemented with guest speakers or programs. The organization publishes The Doll Collectors of America, Inc. Bulletin six times per year. The Annual Meeting is typically held over a weekend in early November and includes an annual auction, a banquet, doll sales, exhibitions, discussions, a business meeting, and much more. (Over time, the DCA archives and reference library materials have been housed at the Toy Cupboard Museum and the Wenham Museum before settling at The Strong.) The DCA remains the oldest doll collectors' club in the United States with active members all around the country.
