Researching at The Strong FAQs

If you are visiting The Strong for research purposes, the following answers to Frequently Asked Questions will help you plan a successful visit.

Before your visit

How do I arrange a visit?

- Scholars, students, collectors, and other researchers who reside in New York or its contiguous states are welcome to conduct research on site. For library and archives staff to optimize collections access, please request an appointment at least two weeks in advance of your arrival. Appointments may be requested online, by phone at 585-410-6349, or by sending an email to library@museumofplay.org. Please provide a topic of research and indicate the materials desired and any special needs.
- As of April 1, 2021, domestic travelers to New York State will not need to quarantine upon arrival in New York State. For additional information on the COVID-19 Travel Advisory visit: https://coronavirus.health.ny.gov/covid-19-travel-advisory. Travelers from states contiguous with New York are exempt from the travel advisory; however, covered travelers must continue to fill out the Traveler Health Form.
- For additional information on accessing collections and policies visit: https://www.museumofplay.org/collections/access-collections

What should I bring?

- You may bring a laptop, digital camera, smartphone, or tablet to take photographs on-site. WiFi is available.
- Face masks are required during your visit – please bring at least one mask that protects your nose and mouth.

How should I prepare for my visit?

- The best preparation requires knowing what materials you would like to see and sending a list ahead of your time at The Strong. The Researcher Request Form [check form link after website updates] must be submitted two weeks prior to your visit.
- Please refer to the Archives Catalog, Library Catalog, and Online Collections to identify materials.
- Refer to this guide on how to use the Archives Catalog.
- Advance notice will be required for use of museum objects as well as coordinating with The Strong’s International Center for the History of Electronic Games (ICHEG) for playing video games.
How can I become a research fellow?

- The Strong awards research fellowships to academic professionals, independent scholars, museum scholars, and advanced graduate students at the Masters or PhD level. Fellowships provide financial support for scholarly play research conducted on site at The Strong in Rochester, New York, for periods of study ranging from one to four weeks. For more information and to apply visit: https://www.museumofplay.org/research-publications/research-fellowships

While you are visiting

Where should I stay?

- You may choose to stay in one of the nearby hotels, bed and breakfasts, or use AirBNB. We recommend staying in the Park Avenue neighborhood as it is within walking distance of the museum and features beautiful Victorian homes, restaurants, and businesses. The South Wedge neighborhood may also be a good area to stay. The nearest hotels are the Hilton Garden Inn and the Strathallan Doubletree. You could also try HomeAway or VRBO.

Where should I park?

- Parking is provided in the on-site parking garage off Howell Street for $5 a day. Complimentary parking is provided for research fellows.
  1. Enter the museum’s parking garage via Howell Street.
  2. Take parking ticket at gate.
  3. Carry parking ticket with you into the museum.
  4. Insert ticket at self-service parking ticket kiosks near museum entry or visit the admissions desk to pay for parking. Tickets must be scanned inside the museum to receive the $5 rate.
  5. Don’t lose your ticket. Insert validated ticket to exit garage. For more parking information visit: https://www.museumofplay.org/visit/directions-and-parking

Where can I eat?

- There are restaurants that are within a mile of the museum (check for COVID-19 restrictions or closures):
  - Owl House (vegan-friendly American plates)
  - Native Eatery and Bar (comfort food, has outdoor tables)
  - Branca Midtown (Italian, pizza)
  - Original Grain (comfort food, takeout)
  - Dinosaur Bar-B-Que (barbecue)
  - Old Toad (British pub fare)
  - Bar Bantum (bistro fare)
  - Natural Oasis (Ethiopian vegan buffet lunch in a modest setting)
  - Park Avenue neighborhood restaurants a little further from the museum
  - The Union Stop (small convenient bodega offering fresh produce, bread, groceries, etc.)
What are the expectations for me as a researcher?

- Researchers must fill out, read, and sign the Use of Collections Materials Agreement before receiving any materials or objects in the Reading Room, indicating that they understand and agree to the requirements and restrictions.
- Library staff will make a photocopy of a photo ID to be kept with the Use of Collections Materials Agreement and the Reference Request Form to document the researcher’s identity and the collections and objects they used during their visit.
- Researchers will be assigned a locker and padlock for use during their visit. Outerwear, bags, and other personal effects must be stored in the lockers.

What are the guidelines for using library and archive materials?

- You may take photographs of non-restricted items for personal research use only.
- When working with archival materials we ask that you work with one folder and box at a time to ensure that materials are returned to the correct folder and box.
- We ask that all materials be returned 15 minutes prior to closing.
- Additional materials can be requested at designated times throughout the day. Researchers can begin the day with one archival collection in addition to any library materials. Pull times for additional collections and materials will be 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Please prioritize the collections you want to utilize to allow for this schedule.
- The NEDCC recommends quarantining books and other materials according to the findings of the REopening Archives, Libraries, and Museums (REALM) Project before re-shelving or handling by another person. To accommodate the recommended quarantine periods and maintain a productive staff workflow, the library and archives will quarantine materials for the following length of time:
  - Archival boxes, folders, and papers – 3 days
Hardcover, paper back, board books, and mylar-covered books – 6 days
Glossy magazines – 4 days
Plain paper magazines, newsletters, or zines – 3 days
Leather or synthetic leather books – 8 days

A quarantine area will be identified and labeled for each researcher’s materials – each cart will be covered in plastic overnight and after the researcher is done with the material.

To reduce the density in the library and archives in both staff and public areas, only three (3) staff members and two (2) researchers will be in the library and archives at a time.

Four worktables will be in the Reading Room with one chair at each table to maintain social distancing. One (1) Digital Access Workstations will be available to researchers. Work surfaces will be cleaned throughout the day, prior to opening, and after closing.

Most of The Strong’s collection does not need to be handled with gloves. Rare exceptions are things like glass plate negatives or other photographs that we avoid touching. Photographic materials have mostly been rehoused or sleeved to prevent surface contact.

Clean, dry hands are best for paper and most plastics in the collection. Staff will request that researchers wash their hands and be conscientious about what they are handling and touching. If you are uncomfortable touching shared materials without gloves, we will provide nitrile gloves as a convenience.

ICHEG materials, like games and console controllers, are mostly plastic. Clean, dry hands are better than gloves.

Hand sanitizer is alcohol-based and can erase or smear sensitive inks. If you frequently apply hand sanitizer, be sure that your hands are completely dry from it evaporating or rubbing into skin before continuing to handle papers with inks. Sensitive items include inkjet-printed paper, color-printed magazines, and color-printed book jackets.

What additional services are available to help me with my research?

The library offers printing, copying, and scanning (fee incurring) services to assist you with your research. The preservation needs of the materials outweigh technical limitations of the photocopier or scanner. If museum staff determine that a book or document is too fragile for photocopying, other arrangements may be made to prevent damage to the material. The Strong reserves the right to limit the number of pages copied from any item to one-third of its total content or 30 pages, whichever is less. This applies to bound volumes and to individual files.

Staff cannot scan materials for researchers until the quarantine period has passed. A small flatbed scanner will be available for scanning if the researcher does not want to use their camera, phone, or tablet to take photos of the material.

The library has digital, video, and audio materials that can be accessed with the equipment we have on site:

- Computers
- TV and VHS player

Note that there are some restrictions as to what can be accessed.
Will I be able to view the museum exhibits?
  ● You can view the museum exhibits with a visitor’s badge which must be visible while you are in the museum. Visiting the butterfly garden or riding the carousel and train will require an extra ticket purchased separately. If you would like to view the museum’s exhibits during your visit, please let us know so we can arrange for a badge.

What are the library and archives’ hours?
  ● The library and archives are open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

After your visit

Can I share the product of my research (article, book, etc.)?
  ● We would love to see your work and add it as part of our library and archival materials.

What are the image licensing rules?
  ● Please refer to our Image Rights and Reproductions Fee Schedule for any questions on image licensing.

Who should I contact if I have follow-up questions?
  ● For any follow-up questions relating to the library and archives, please email library@museumofplay.org.
  ● For questions from research fellows please contact Christopher Bensch at cbensch@museumofplay.org.

Can I share feedback about my visit?
  ● We would love to have feedback after your visit. Helping researchers have a successful visit is very important to us.
