Visiting the Can You Tell Me How to Get to Sesame Street? Exhibit

I am going to play in the Can You Tell Me How to Get to Sesame Street? exhibit at The Strong museum.

Things will be different from my last visit. This is to keep me and my adult healthy. Museum hosts will be wearing blue shirts and masks. I will wear a mask. The museum may smell different than I remember. I will smell the cleaning supplies that the workers are using to clean the museum. I might see workers cleaning while I am visiting the museum. I can help, too, by cleaning my hands and not touching my face.

The Sesame Street exhibit looks a lot like the Sesame Street on my television. There will be other children playing in Sesame Street, too. Playing will be different. I will play at least six feet away from other children. There will be signs and spacers on the floor to help me. Some parts of each exhibit may be closed for a little while. I might feel disappointed or frustrated, but I can still have fun. There are many things I can play with on my own or with my family.
I can wave to Big Bird and sit on the 123 Sesame Street stoop. If I take my picture, I could see myself on the TV screen. I could drive a yellow taxi cab or play chess and checkers in the playground area with my adult. I can also make music on the pipe organ.

I can visit with Elmo, Dorothy, and Mr. Noodle in Elmo’s World and sing along with Abby Cadabby on the television. I might even cook a pretend meal in the Cookie Monster Foodie Truck. If I need some quiet time, I can read a book in Big Bird’s Nest.

I will stay inside the exhibit with my adult until we are ready to leave together. I cannot wait to play in the Can You Tell Me How to Get to Sesame Street? exhibit.

My adult can learn all about changes at the museum at museumofplay.org so we can learn more together.
