I am going to visit The Strong National Museum of Play.

When we visit, my adult will drive to the museum’s parking garage. There are other cars driving around the parking garage. We will walk from the car to the museum’s entrance. I will stay close to my adult.

When I arrive, I will see museum hosts wearing blue shirts and face masks. This is to keep me and my adult healthy. I will wear a mask too.

The museum may smell different than I remember. I will smell the cleaning supplies that the workers are using to clean the museum. I might see workers cleaning while I am visiting the museum. I can help, too, by cleaning my hands and not touching my face.
After we enter the museum, I will get in line to be let in. There may be other people waiting in line, too. We will keep at least six feet away from other people in line. There will be markings on the floor so I know where to stand. I will be patient.

Now, I am ready to play in the museum. I am really excited, but I am going to stay with my adult while in the museum. I will walk, not run, in the museum. Playing will be different. I will leave lots of space between me and other children playing at the museum. There will be signs and spacers on the floor to help me do that. Some parts of each exhibit may be closed. I might feel disappointed or frustrated, but I can still have fun. There are many things I can play with on my own or with my family.

My adult can learn all about changes at the museum at museumofplay.org so we can learn more together.

There are so many fun things to do in the museum. I am going to have a great time!
